NEVADA ESSAY CONTEST
----------------------	--	--

An essay contest among the young people of the state is now being held. Any boy or girl of fourteen or over may compete. The subject for pupils of the rural schools is "Why We Must Win the War," and that for town pupils is "What America is Fighting For."

The contest closes on the 30th of June and some very good work is being done. The essays are short, 500 words is long enough. Send in your compositions, boys and girls, and show your patriotism. Don't wait to have "teacher" correct them. Do your very best and send the result to Miss E. E. Stone, state chairman educational propaganda, Woman's Committee, Carson City, Nevada.

TOWN PEST LEAVES
Andy Yelovich, who has been a source of constant annoyance in police circles, left this morning, saying he would get off at Luning, and all the officers ask is that the sheriff of Mineral county does not give him a return ticket.

I loan you a watch to carry while I repair your own. I am the finest watchmaker who ever came to Tonopah. Emilie Merman at Robert's Grocery store. advM131f

FOR SALE
Eighty-acre ranch, 1 1/2 miles west of Big Pine, Cal. Six hour drive from Tonopah. Excellent summer home. Fine fishing and hunting on the place. First class water right. For further information write to Thos. Callow, Big Pine. AdvJ1214

SHIDLER CASE
In the case of Al Shidler of Tonopah the trial was set for July 8, at which time the defendant will enter his plea.

ALL HAVE THEIR UNDER-DOGS

Good Reasons Why People's Sympathies Are With the Fellow Who Is Temporarily Down.

Our sympathies naturally travel the line of likes—that is, the things we feel in ourselves, we feel in others. We applaud the under-dog, because we so often have been the under-dog. We like to lift the other fellow up when he is down, because we also have been down. Sympathy starts at home—or else it isn't sympathy.

Your periodic moods of failure and disappointment are your under-dogs. So, instead of walking past these under-dogs of yours and casting no sympathy their way, pause to give them your heart and your hope, and soon the picture and fact will be your over-dogs—your victories and your genuine achievements.

No under-dogs can possibly appeal in importance to the under-dogs of your daily experience.

Perhaps you will applaud alone the under-dogs of your personal glooms and shadows, but what of it? As Lowell says: "Dally, with souls that cringe and plot, we sinas climb and know it not." What difference, what odds, so long as over your "manhood bend the skies?"

Courageously cheer the under-dogs of your experiences and stay proudly by them until their fight becomes a factor of your kingdom.—George Matthew Adams, in Good Housekeeping.

GLASS STAINED BY X-RAYS

Experiments Have Shown These Produce the Same Effect as the Light of the Sun.

It is well known that glass exposed for long to sunlight acquires a violet tint. In very old houses the windows facing south are often distinctly violet. Experiments recently made in the laboratories of the General Electric company at Schenectady with X-rays prove that these can be used to dye glass in many colors, principally an amethystine violet and an amber yellow, but also green and bright yellow. These colors, according to Mr. Rosenthal, who conducted the experiments, are due to modifications of the physical structure of the glass and not to chemical alterations. The color can be made to penetrate to any desired depth, from a mere surface tint to complete coloration of the entire substance. And the same method can be applied to tinting porcelain, enamel and precious stones.

An interesting and important fact about this glass has been colored by long exposure to X-rays is that it becomes impervious to the radiations that have transformed it. Thus it can be used as a protection against the glare of the sun or the snow and against the X-rays themselves.

Russia and the United States.

The old autocratic government of Russia was always particularly friendly to the United States. During the revolutionary war Russia offered to mediate for peace and her offer was accepted by the United States but declined by Great Britain. Russia was one of the first governments to recognize the independence of the United States and continued to show her good will by making treaties of amity and commerce with the United States. Several of our early presidents in their messages referred to "the continued friendship of Russia." In 1823, Russia proposed a friendly adjustment through diplomatic channels of the boundary line between American and Russian possessions in the Northwest and President Monroe authorized the United States minister to Russia to attend to the matter. In doing so he said: "The government of the United States has been desirous by this friendly proceeding to manifest the great value which they have invariably attached to the friendship of Russia and their solicitude to cultivate the best understanding with that government."

Love in Fishdom.

This is no "fish" story as the term is usually referred to, but it is a story about fish. Jim Foster, student of fish affairs, vouchers for its authenticity. Jim has a collection of big live fish in a small aquarium in a downtown restaurant and for 12 hours every night he watches them perform. "The fish are very affectionate," declared the fish student. "They are good-tempered and kind toward one another. See those two largest fish? They are 'married.' I guess, or else in love with each other. They always kiss each other good night and nibble affectionately at each other's mouths. The female of the two never puts her cold fins on the male one's back. And in the morning—say, it's amusing to watch them yawn and stretch themselves."—Detroit Free Press.

How Would You Tie a Camel?

Because of its peculiar swaying motion in walking the camel has been called the "ship of the desert." This title may also have some reference to the extreme stupidity and passivity of the animal, which submits to great loads, which it will often carry for days at a time without stopping for food or drink, with no more urging than a ship would require from the hands of its pilot, says the Popular Science Monthly. The manner in which the drivers hobble the camels when they stop for a rest is interesting. They do not depend upon stakes driven in the deep, yielding sand, but simply double back and tie one of the forelegs of the animal, so that it can lie down or rise up, but cannot move from the spot.

LEAVES 9 CHILDREN TO MOURN

Following an operation performed a week ago, Mrs. Cinderella Pollock, wife of Robert Pollock and mother of nine children, died in a Reno hospital Wednesday night. Mrs. Pollock's husband was the first constable of Sparks.

HAWAII WANTS MORE SETTLERS

HONOLULU, T. H., May 28.—(By mail)—All present attempts to amend the laws governing the handling and disposal of the public lands of the territory came to an end today, when the house of representatives of the territorial legislature killed a bill passed by the senate providing for the disposal of sugar lands upon which leases have expired or are expiring. Opposition to the senate bill was largely on the ground that it was a "sugar planters' measure," which would mean the death of homesteading in Hawaii.

The bill was introduced to the senate as a war measure, it being contended that large areas of cane land are being allowed to lie fallow because they have neither been homesteaded nor have the plantations been given the right to cultivate them. The senate contended that the bill would actually encourage homesteading, it being provided that the plantations might cultivate the lands only until they were actually disposed of to homesteaders, after which the plantations should enter into contracts to purchase the cane grown by the homesteaders.

GARAGE OWNER BREAKS LEG
Julius Gaynor of the Brown-Parker Auto company suffered a compound fracture of his left leg last night in the company's garage on Columbia street. Gaynor slipped on the edge of one of the car pits and in saving himself from falling to the bottom swung his leg against a timber in the pit with enough force to break it.—Goldfield Tribune.

FINDS BADGER IN MINE

Floyd Johnson, nipper at the Nevada Packard mine, had a queer experience recently. He was climbing up a raise when he felt something move past his face. He reached out to see what it was and instantly withdrew his hand minus a little skin. Upon investigation it was found to be a badger which had evidently dug its way through. Johnson killed the animal.

REGISTRATION LAW FULLY EXPLAINED

In response to a request from H. H. Atkinson, district attorney of Nye county, for an interpretation of the new registration law Attorney General Thatcher has written an opinion outlining what is meant by the act. The attorney general's opinion is to the effect that it makes no particular difference with which particular registrar a voter registers, either the county clerk, a justice of the peace or a deputy registrar, in so far as affecting his right to vote is concerned.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL DIED IN ELY TUESDAY

William Campbell, one of the pioneer mining men of the Goldfield district, died Tuesday morning in Ely.

Campbell was connected with the Mohawk, Combination Fraction and other mine managements in the early days and was superintendent of the Daisy, in Diamondfield, when Walter Geddes was manager of that property.

He is survived by his wife, whom he married in Goldfield about six years ago. Campbell came from Colorado.

Deceased was formerly employed in Leadville and Cripple Creek and left Tonopah about ten months ago to accept a position as superintendent of the Ely Consolidated. According to private advice death came suddenly after one day's illness and during the absence of his wife, who is visiting somewhere in Canada.

FLAG DAY OBSERVED TONIGHT BY THE ELKS

The anniversary of Flag day was announced this morning by the appearance of the national colors flying from every staff in the city and from the tops of every gallows frame in the mine section along the hillsides. The celebration will take concrete shape this evening at the lodge rooms of the Elks, where a suitable program has been arranged to testify to the patriotism of the citizens of the camp. The orator will be L. A. Gibbons, the able young Reno attorney, who was also the first exalted ruler of Tonopah lodge of Elks. A general invitation is extended the public to share in the exercises and it is hoped the attendance will be equal to the capacity of the hall. The program will be as follows:

"Star Spangled Banner," orchestra; introductory exercises, exalted ruler and officers; prayer, chaplain; solo, "La Marseillaise" (in French), Arthur C. Borrowers; "Flag Record," Bro. A. H. Keenan; altar service, esquire and officers; solo, "Joan of Arc," Miss George Money; "Elks' Tribute to the Flag," Bro. L. W. Harrington; "Caprice Intermezzo" (Bernee), orchestra; address, Bro. L. A. Gibbons; "America," by the audience.

OFF FOR THE TRAINING SCHOOL OF U. OF N.

The departure of nine young men chosen from Nye county registrants to take a special course of study in the University of Nevada to fit them for responsibilities in active service brought out a small attendance at the railroad station this morning. This was due to the fact that the date of leaving was not decided on until the last moment the previous evening and therefore the plan did not receive general publicity.

The scouts turned out with their drum corps and the mine whistles shrieked a salute, but the demonstration would have been much greater were the boys actually leaving the state. The list of those leaving home this morning had the following names: Louis Arthur Morgan, Joseph W. Rackerly, Elmer M. Haug, John H. Barter, Louis Ford, Alfred Clay Dodson, Louis B. Heatly, Henry D. Lelman and Guy H. Ewing.

ELKS ORGANIZING FOR BALL GAME

The Elks have secured Micky Johns as manager and organizer of the team that will meet the baseball team sent by the Reno Elks to inaugurate the sale of war stamps in this district. While many of the old-time players have been taken for service in the army there are enough boys remaining to put up a pretty game that will reward the spectators for the time spent at the side of the diamond. The Reno Elks come here at their own expense so the entire receipts will be given to the purchase of stamps. The local committee has arranged for a tag day as the best way of gaining the desired end since it is impossible to have an admission fee without some way of restricting the crowd.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this means of thanking the many kind friends for the kindness and sympathy rendered me in my recent bereavement, the death of my husband, Curley Munroe.

MRS. ALICE MUNROE.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

The manner in which a little girl brought about the reconciliation of two brothers who had been estranged is told in "Gates of Gladness," the striking new picture to be shown today in which Madge Evans, the world's greatest kiddie star, plays the lead with the assistance of George MacQuarrie. The brothers both loved the same girl, but the younger brother won out and married the girl despite the fact that he was disowned by his father because of his marriage. A daughter was born to the young couple and when the daughter at the age of eight years was by a strange set of circumstances, brought into the home of the elder brother, she immediately brought sunshine and gladness to replace the shadows and gloom which had formerly been a portion of the house. Madge Evans plays the role of the little daughter. George MacQuarrie, a big favorite with the world audiences, plays the role of the older brother. The most magnificent country estate ever seen in motion pictures figures in this picture. The superb gardens, the palatial home and the driveways, all are seen in this picture. "Gates of Gladness" is a very superior picture and you will enjoy it thoroughly. Make a point of seeing it today.

With this feature will be seen the last number of "The Hidden Hand." You now have the opportunity to see who the hidden hand was and what his purpose was. It is a very interesting chapter and will be enjoyed by all. Tomorrow, "Revenge," featuring Edith Storey.

BOXES OF ALL KINDS OFFERED AT AUCTION

The sale of prize packages for the benefit of the Red Cross Saturday night is no rummage sale but the offerings of a hundred enthusiastic ladies and gentlemen who contributed to the best of their means. In the list is an automobile searchlight, boxes of lace handkerchiefs, neckties, oxford slippers, lace house caps, one ham, a box of apples, a pair of bronzes valued at $15, several articles of cut glass, including a complete water set, and other articles and commodities calculated to fill a useful niche in some household.

The sale will begin promptly at 7 o'clock when the Musicians' Union band will discourse concert music and patriotic airs. The place is to be the intersection of Main street and Brougher avenue, where the Red Cross and welfare stamp enclosure stands and there is no doubt that the bidding will be lively. Every dollar received goes to the Red Cross without deducting a penny for expenses, as every package has been donated by those who are eager to swell the funds raised for this worthy cause.

TRUCK DEMOLISHED

Peter Organ, proprietor of the Organ hotel, and Arthur Perkins, a mining man, narrowly escaped with their lives when the truck in which they were crossing the Southern Pacific tracks at Mill City last Friday was struck by a train and demolished.
